Between Us

When Bernard Morris sent his Thanksgiving menu from his camp in Maryland he had no thought it would be the means of his getting to spend Christmas at home. At the top of the menu was the name of his commanding officer, Jane, his young sister, was interested in the menu, and, after looking it over carefully she sat down to write a letter. Sara Bonnie thought she was writing Bernard, but after her asking how to spell several words they decided it must be to someone else. On inquiring they found she had written a letter to the commanding officer and told him she was writing him instead of Sara Bonnie. She told him that Bernard had never spent a Christmas away from each other in her eight years, and she wondered if there was anything he could do to let him come home. Bernard knew nothing about the letter, and he wrote his parents, when the officer called him into his office he wondered what rule he had broken. The officer showed him the letter and told him he could not write her and say no, so it means Jane got the one present she wanted to make her holiday a complete day.

"Sunday was a lovely birthday and being out in Arkansas Mary did not feel she could send him the kind of cake she wanted him to have, so she got in touch with one of the bakers in the city where his camp is located and Tuesday there was delivered to her a ten-pound cake with all the decorations. A story that comes to us from over the water concerns Dr. John Mooney. It seems John had been doing quite a bit of flying lately in his work. He had named his ship "Sunday" for his wife. On one of his flights his ship crashed, and along with it John's prize camera, which had pictures of his ship with Sally written in it with adhesive tape, went down with the plane. One of the boys on the flight died several times before the camera and after staying in a tree top almost four times they were finally rescued, and soon Sally is to have the pictures of the ship that John was trying so hard to save. When Mary Groover married John Ivy Brinson Sunday morning she had a string of white beads with white satin ribbon. If you are racking your brain to find a gift to give, why not make it a year's subscription to the Bulloch Times? Certainly that would be a constant reminder for fifty-two weeks in the year. Will you see us AROUND TOWN.

Miss Groover and Mr. Brinson Married
Simplicity and dignity characterized the wedding of Miss Mary Groover and John Ivey Brinson, of Stillmore, which took place Sunday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. C. Groover, on North Main street. Rev. L. E. Williams performed the single ring service in the presence of the two families. Magnolia leaves, white gladioli and white burning tapers formed a beautiful background before the camera, and after staying in a tree top almost four times they were finally rescued, and soon Sally is to have the pictures of the ship that John was trying so hard to save. When Mary Groover married John Ivy Brinson Sunday morning she had a string of white beads with white satin ribbon. Scott in Hospital As Result of Accident

Pvt. James W. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scott, has recently been placed in Pinney General Hospital at Thomasville, Ga. In May he suffered a broken thigh in a truck accident near Whitehorse, Conn., and after five months in the base hospital there his transfer to the States was obtained by Lieut. Robert McLemore. From Whitehorse he was stationed at Edmonton, Alberta, for a few weeks, then to Great Falls, Mont.; then by way of New York to deliver a patient he finally arrived in Thomasville, after 6,000 miles by plane.

He with many others of the 277th Motor Corps Division, helped get supplies to Alaska for Russia and many a day they have served in sub-zero weather and have been where they saw trucks and bulldozers sink out of sight in the treacherous muck where they were located.

Pvt. Scott is very pleasantly located at Pinney General, and he is assured of a good leg in time.

Three fire within past week: Small store operated by W. J. Beard in West Statesboro Saturday night; Coal depot the same night at almost the same moment; Monday night a fire on Cotton avenue, the property of John Blandhard.

C. M. Cumming has taken the initiative in providing for a public display of fireworks for the entertainment of the people of Statesboro. Christmas evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock; a fund of $100 has been raised to purchase the material of fireworks for the display.

Brooklet Masons held election Friday night: Dan McCormick, worshipful master; J. D. Aldridge, senior warden; T. R. Bryan Jr., junior warden; F. W. Hughes, secretary; W. C. Crowley, treasurer; L. Lee, door; J. H. McCormick, junior deacon; John G. Blitch and Dan C. Lee, stewards.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
From Bulloch Times, Dec. 23, 1914
Three young men (names not mentioned) were bound over following preliminary hearing on charge of taking job of "Christmas joy" which had been left by the express wagon at the door of a prominent citizen (name also not mentioned) for holiday uses.

Explaining that work was about to begin on the construction of the government building here, a negro collected fifty cents from each of about forty of his trusting friends who wanted jobs; said the scale of wages would be $1.75 per day! "They applied in droves."

Social events: J. D. Fletcher and Miss Jessie Sowell were united in marriage this morning at 7 o'clock at the Brooks House by Elder W. H. Crouse. George Donaldson, Outland McDougald and Julian Quattlebaum, students at the University, are home for the holidays: Misses Lollie Cobb and Maggie Ruth Field and Durham Cobb, students at Brewton-Parker, Mt. Vernon, are at home for the holidays; Ernest Smith and Clark Wilcox, of Mercer, and Carol Moore and Herbert Kennedy, of Atlanta Medical College, are at home for Christmas; Miss Jessie Olliff, who has been attending business college in Savannah, is at home for the holidays.

Forty Years Ago
From Statesboro News, Dec. 20, 1904
On Sunday afternoon twenty new members were baptized at the Baptist church as a result of the revival meeting which closed last week.

F. P. Register came up Saturday from Bartow, Fla., and paid us a call; informs us he will move his family back to Bulloch the first of the year.

S. L. Nevils, of the Sinkhole district, has on hand his entire crop of cotton, consisting of 25 bales of sea island and 20 of upland grown this year.

Cards are out announcing the marriage next Sunday of William H. Simmons and Miss Sula Brannen at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brannen.

Friends of W. C. DeLoach and Mrs. Nora Beasley will be interested to learn that cards are out announcing their forthcoming marriage on December 28th at the home of the bride on College street.

The First National Bank has received their new notes from the U. S. Treasury; they are signed by Brooks Simmons, president, and J. E. McCracken, cashier; the notes were called upon to cut the bills apart.

J. M. Murphy returned last week from Texas, where he has been for the past three months in company with J. L. Olliff; he thinks by next spring Mr. Olliff will have his health sufficiently restored to return home.

BACKWARD LOOK

TEN YEARS AGO

From Bulloch Times, Dec. 20, 1934

THIRTY YEARS AGO
From Bulloch Times, Dec. 23, 1914
Three young men (names not mentioned) were bound over following preliminary hearing on charge of taking job of "Christmas joy" which had been left by the express wagon at the door of a prominent citizen (name also not mentioned) for holiday uses.

Explaining that work was about to begin on the construction of the government building here, a negro collected fifty cents from each of about forty of his trusting friends who wanted jobs; said the scale of wages would be $1.75 per day! "They applied in droves."

Social events: J. D. Fletcher and Miss Jessie Sowell were united in marriage this morning at 7 o'clock at the Brooks House by Elder W. H. Crouse. George Donaldson, Outland McDougald and Julian Quattlebaum, students at the University, are home for the holidays: Misses Lollie Cobb and Maggie Ruth Field and Durham Cobb, students at Brewton-Parker, Mt. Vernon, are at home for the holidays; Ernest Smith and Clark Wilcox, of Mercer, and Carol Moore and Herbert Kennedy, of Atlanta Medical College, are at home for Christmas; Miss Jessie Olliff, who has been attending business college in Savannah, is at home for the holidays.

Forty Years Ago
From Statesboro News, Dec. 20, 1904
On Sunday afternoon twenty new members were baptized at the Baptist church as a result of the revival meeting which closed last week.

F. P. Register came up Saturday from Bartow, Fla., and paid us a call; informs us he will move his family back to Bulloch the first of the year.

OUR QUOTA IS $ GEORGIA 6th WAR LOAN - NOV. 20th to DEC. 15th

Georgia's "own" Sixth War Loan poster stresses the grim reality of "If Men Still Must Die, We Still Must Buy." It heavily underscores what servicemen and women, peace-settlers in bond purchases which support their buddies, know by experience.

HOUSE WARMING

A lovely affair on the social calendar here last week was a house warming Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lee, who have recently purchased a new home. The affair was planned and carried out by the community at large, to show appreciation of Mrs. Lee's unselfish service to the town, churches and school, and also to Mr. Lee, who has been such a loyal citizen. During the evening the group sang Christmas carols directed by Miss Mamie Lee, assisted by Miss Carolyn Proctor, of GSCW, and at home for the holidays.

T/Sgt. Paul Anderson and his wife, Sgt. Dorothy Lee Anderson, who are both in the U. S. service, visited Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Lee last week.

Mrs. Roland Carver has returned from a two weeks visit with relatives in Jacksonville. She also visited her brother, Pvt. Ledell Smith, at Camp Blending.

Mrs. C. S. Cromley entertained the Woman's Missionary Society of Christian Service at her home Monday afternoon. Mrs. John A. Robertson gave the main talk of the afternoon.

Robert Lester, Ph. MYC, who is in the U. S. service in the medical department, has recently been studying at Georgia Tech, spent a few days at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lester.

D. W. Lee Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Lee, was honored on his

To the People of this Community

The best way to observe the defeat of Hitler is to buy an extra War Bond in thousands upon thousands of American homes today there is pride and satisfaction. From these homes have come fighting men who died to bring us this far on the road to decisive victory over all our enemies. It will take more sweat, more tears, more toil, more and greater individual War Bond buying before we see Japan in the ruins these barbarians of the Pacific planned for us. How much more blood and tears depends on every individual American war worker and bond buyer.

The Sixth War Loan symbol—a bomb hurtling down on the Rising Sun—can only come to reality with your individual help. Buy at least an extra $100 War Bond above your normal payroll savings. That's the least you can do to back up your fighting men.

At Miami Beach For New Assignment

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 18.—First Lt. James B. Edge, 25, of Statesboro, Ga., has arrived at Army Air Forces redistribution station, Miami Beach, for reassignment processing after completing a tour of duty outside the continental United States.

Medical examinations and classification interviews at this post, pioneer of several redistribution stations operated by the AAF personnel distribution command for AAF returnees of overseas and enlisted men, will determine his new assignment. He will remain at the redistribution station about two weeks, much of which will be devoted to rest and recreation.

LT. Edge was a squadron adjutant in the European, North African and Mediterranean theaters. He is the son of Mrs. Maude B. Edge, Statesboro.

UPPER LOTTS CREEK CHURCH SERVICES

The regular fourth Sunday services, Saturday and Sunday night before, have been postponed to the fifth Sunday, Saturday and Sunday night before, in December. All members and friends will please take notice.

The pastor, Elder J. Walter Hendricks, requested this change so that he and his wife and daughter could spend Christmas holidays in Miami, Fla., with J. Walter Jr., his wife and young son, James Wesley.

Thank you and God bless you every one. Merry Christmas and a very happy and prosperous new year.

ELD. J. WALTER HENDRICKS, Pastor.

SOIL CONSERVATION

By J. R. KELLY

A limited number of kudzu crowns have been ordered by the supervisors of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District. Orders for any number of these crowns should be placed with the district during the next three weeks.

The land said to the farmer, "Won't you please keep me warmer." The gull spot said to the farmer, "I am dying for some kudzu." The small wash said to the farmer, "I'm gonna get deeper and deeper unless I get some service."
